

How does the resistance of a light dependent resistor (LDR) change as the intensity of the shining on it changes?