

Which form of energy transfer does not involve particles?