

Microwaves transfer energy to molecules in food, which heats them up.