

Nuclear power stations generate electricity using the energy given out when ..... or plutonium fuels break up through nuclear fission.